LAKE COUNTY – Each year the Lake County Solid Waste District and Ohio State University Extension office in Lake County sponsor a Clean and Green Logo Contest for youth 18 and under. Entrants are asked to design a logo to promote recycling in Lake County.

The overall winner and two runners-up will have their posters framed for display in their schools for the year. The winner has his/her winning logo framed and displayed in the Nolan Administration building in Painesville and receives a plaque made of recycled glass.

The Lake County Board of Commissioners presented resolutions and framed logos to the winner at its April 26 meeting.

"In recognition of Clean & Green Lake County as an awareness program, and also during the time of Keep America Beautiful, you're probably aware that Earth Day was last Sunday, April 22," said Chris Hodges, LCSWMD coordinator.

"This year we had an outstanding number of entries. It was tough to choose. We're pretty proud of what the children have created this year."

The commissioners, Bob Aufutldish, Ray Sines, and Dan Troy presented the awards.

The elementary division winner was Brian White, a sixth-grader at Washington Elementary in the Willoughby/Eastlake School District.

Winning in the high school division was Danielle Talevski, a junior at Willoughby South High School.

The overall winner was Nick Kubiez, a sixth-grader from St. Mary Magdalene/St. Justin Martyr School in Eastlake.

Danielle Talevski, a junior at Willoughby South High School, accepts a resolution from Lake County commissioners Dan Troy, Bob Aufutldish and Ray Sines as a runner-up winner in the Lake County Clean & Green Logo Contest.

Nick Kubiez, a sixth-grader from St. Mary Magdalene/St. Justin Martyr School in Eastlake and the grand prize winner in the 2012 Lake County Clean & Green Logo Contest, accepts his award from Lake County commissioners Dan Troy, Bob Aufutldish and Ray Sines.
