

RD 1-4-13 road. And even if you are, you are not drinking

CHEERS . . . to the Cleveland Water Department, which says its replacement of 420,000 meters in 70 communities it serves is going swimmingly. About 25,000 of the new high-tech meters reportedly are in place, but there's a long way to go. If any department had reasons to avoid overconfidence, it's Cleveland Water.
